There's a first time for everything, and today was our first PRACTICE Mixed Steel Match. We easily got in 2x-3x more shooting than in a normal 6-stage match and had a lot of personal interaction as well. Everyone got to work on improving their skills. In my book, that makes today's event a success! I hope everyone who came out felt the same way.

Although stage results were certainly not the emphasis today, several of us did turn in some score sheets. Amongst those, a different person won each stage! Mark Sue, however, came out with the overall win by scoring a sweet run on the Plate of Death.

Our next match is scheduled for February 4th. It will be a normal mixed steel match. I hope you can all make it out to shoot with us!
